About:

Christopher Sharples is a founding partner of SHoP Architects. He has held integral roles on seminal SHoP projects such as Barclays Center, East River Waterfront, Uber Headquarters, SITE Santa Fe and Fashion Institute of Technology. Christopher has been instrumental in integrating cultural projects into the urban environment. He has held teaching positions at Cornell University, Parsons School of Design, Yale University, The City College of New York, Columbia University, and the University of Virginia and lectures internationally.

Books:

Articles:

Articles listed above are available in the CCNY Architecture Library except where noted.
Website:

Nilda Sanchez-Rodriguez, Architecture Librarian
March 2016

Images: http://www.shoparc.com/about